

.Find your new challenge as an

Engineer (m/f/d)

Job ID: HAM-60548513/ Location: Hamburg/ Working hours: Full-time

What you can expect:

Join AERO | HighProfessionals - partner of Airbus and one of the largest personnel service providers in the aerospace industry. Get a permanent position with our customer, receive Equal Pay and lay the foundation for the potential takeover at Germany's largest aircraft manufacturer in Hamburg with your excellent work.

We offer you:

- Unlimited employment contract
- Above-average payment or Equal Pay
- Comprehensive support during the recruitment process and as an employee
- Attractive company pension plan
- Chance to be permanently hired Germany's largest airline company
- Flexible handling of overtime, such as time off in lieu or payout

For our customer in Hamburg, we are looking for an engineer (m/f/d). The following tasks are within your field of activity:

- design consulting for the preparation and modification of construction documents
- the identification of manufacturing problems and the initiation of corrective actions
- the bundling of disruptions in IT tools
- the planning of the resulting modifications including the coordination of the downstream sequence
- the cooperation in projects for the continuous optimization of the production areas, working methods and introduction of new technologies
- the technical consulting for process optimizations between Manufacturing, Engineering and manufacturing

Your strengths:

As an engineer (m/f/d) with our customer, you have:

- a degree in the field of engineering or electrical engineering
- Professional experience in the areas of work preparation, production planning/production planning-control as well as manufacturing engineering

- In-depth knowledge of MS-Office and SAP
- Business fluent in German and English

Employment conditions:

Hourly rate: 32-36 Euros depending on work experience and/or length of service.

WE LOOK FORWARD TO RECEIVING YOUR APPLICATION!

Special information

This position is with a temporary employment agency in the aviation/aerospace industry, offering Equal Pay. Along with this, you benefit from reliable work planning and the chance to be integrated permanently into the customer's operations. At AERO - Partner of Airbus – specialists will support you from the very beginning; whether in the area of application, recruitment, accounting or business travel, or any other other questions that may arise.

We appreciate electronic application documents, consisting of a detailed curriculum vitae, a short cover letter including your salary expectation and your certificates (school, training and work certificates other certificates) with a maximum size of 4 MB.